Aviation News in County

The arrival of a Douglas C-47 Army Cargo Plane on Saturday morning at the Kingston-Ulster Airport created considerable interest among local residents. The pilot was Major Slater, with General Finley, who is associated with the Office of the Secretary of Defense, the department which controls the issuing of supplies and equipment to Air Forces, Air Reserves and Air National Guard.

They attended the convention of the Department of New York, Reserve Officers Association, Saturday afternoon. Kappy Weeks, Carol Kaplan and Joe Stankovich representing the Kingston Civil Air Patrol were escorted through the plane by Major Slater, who said that the ship would land that evening at Bolling Field, Washington, D. C.

A "shoulder-patch" emblem for fliers at Kingston-Ulster Airport has been designed by Joseph Philipovich and Kenneth Gordon. Charles Cooper of Woodstock has had the design reproduced in color where it may be seen at the airport office. The circular "patch" has an orange background, pictures an American eagle in flight and bears the inscription "KINGSTON FLYERS."

Daniel Carino, New York, successfully completed his private pilot's flight test with William Kobelt at New Paltz Airport, May 15.

Wilson Tinney, Port Ewen is resuming his flying and is now in the process of renewing his private pilot's license.

Alfred "Lui" Lefredo will use his 4-place Stinson to commute between New Paltz and Flushing, L. I.

Log books issued to recent beginners in flight-instruction at Kingston-Ulster Airport bear the names of Charles Abernethy, Kingston, Salvatore Castiglione, Saugerties and R. Basha who is the inspector for the State Motor Vehicle Bureau.

Tom McInerney has been near Boston this week, spraying for the Aero Duster Company.

Bill Kobelt's lively cocker spaniel "Corty" has become an almost self-appointed mascot at New Paltz Airport and has shown more than a tail-wagging interest in airplanes and remarkable constitution for flying.

Recent cross country flights from New Paltz Airport included Doug Alverson of New Paltz to Middletown, Russell Phillips, Milton to Boston where Mrs. Hallie Mann is presently hospitalized and Bill Mann to his home in Pittsfield, Mass., with friend, Donald Walsh.

Ed Storms flew his Taylorcraft back from Syracuse on Friday. Mrs. Monahan and daughter of Newport News, Va., landed their Avonca "Champ" at Kingston-Ulster Airport en route to Albany. C. R. Coppock of Lisbon, Ohio, established a new record at the Kingston-Ulster Airport for the greatest number of "family rides" given in one day. "I must have taken up 30 or 40," said Mr. Coppock, whose wife is related to the Perry family who are associated with a local taxi company. His sleek silver and red Beechcraft "Bonanza" was continually admired by all people stopping at the field.

There will be an important business meeting for all the Civil Air Patrol members, Wednesday evening, 7:30 at Kingston-Ulster Airport. Reports to be presented will concern the Air Show, possible participation in the Memorial Day parade, Cadet Training and Drilling and Operation "L." Movies are also scheduled and anyone interested in C.A.P. is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Partridge of Kingston flew a Stearman from New Paltz Airport over Windham, home of Mrs. Partridge's mother. Wilma McMann of Poughkeepsie, visited New Paltz Airport on Sunday afternoon and went for a check ride with Sam Wilbur, one of the field instructors. Matthew Pisano, C.A.P. Supply Officer, has applied for a Student's Pilot License at Kingston-Ulster Airport.

Twenty-eight cities, 32 counties, and one state in the United States bear the name of Washington.

Panama Incensed At Statue Theft; Reward, $600,000

Panama, Panama, May 16 (AP)—The daring theft of the million-dollar statue of Costa Rica's patron virgin has brought the little Central American country to a virtual state of siege, travelers arriving here from San Jose reported.

They said the jewel-encrusted gold image of Our Lady of Los Angeles was stolen Friday night from the basilica at Cartago, 20 miles southeast of San Jose. The thieves murdered the church watchman and escaped with the two-foot tall statue, as well as with money and jewels from the church alms box.

Amid a country-wide wave of indignation, rewards totaling 4,000,000 colones (more than $600,000) have been offered by individuals and business houses for information leading to the recovery of the statue. It is valued at 6,000,000 colones (nearly $1,000,000).

Costa Rica's frontiers have been closed and travel out of San Jose has been forbidden, except with a special pass. Police were reported making continuous raids on hotel rooms and private homes. Persons were stopped in the streets and searched on the spot frequently.

The government decreed three days of national mourning for the statue. Because it is believed no Costa Rican would dare steal the nationally-venerated image, foreigners were objects of particular suspicion and were carefully searched when leaving the country.

Even priests were not exempted from the searches, the arrivals here said.

Fourth Victim Dies

Tuxedo, N. Y., May 16 (AP)—A fourth victim died yesterday after a head-on collision near Monroe, Sunday night. Natalie Guerino, 52, of Newburgh, driver of one of the automobiles, died at Tuxedo Hospital. He had suffered a broken arm and leg, internal injuries, shock and multiple cuts. Guerino's wife, Paula, died in the crash. A daughter, Grace, 34, suffered a broken ankle. Two others died and four others were injured in the collision, which stopped traffic on State Highway 17 for an hour and a half.

Stalemate Is Reached

Sydney, Australia, May 16 (AP)—The British Commonwealth conference here was reported today partially stalemated on the question of aid to Asia, Pakistan and, to a lesser degree, Ceylon were said to be the only countries sympathetic to an Australian proposal for immediate aid by Commonwealth countries to Asian areas threatened by communism.

In Siberia, late spring frosts are termed the "icy saints days," according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Sees Labor in Key Role
In Controlling Cold War

"The fight for the allegiance of workers is a key battle of the cold war," Philip M. Kaiser, assistant secretary of labor for international affairs, said today in departing for a series of conferences in Europe.

"The Communists are throwing everything they've got at the workers," said Kaiser. "They realize if they could control labor, they would have a strategic organization through which they could take over without using the Red army—witness Czechoslovakia.

"We Americans owe a tremendous debt to our own free trade unions," Kaiser added. "Without fanfare or publicity they've rolled up their sleeves of their own free will and gone into the cold war slugging with both fists. They know what communism means to workers because they've dealt with it here at home. They've done a magnificent job, abreast with their fellow free trade unionists. Free labor throughout the world stands united, despite the lies of Moscow's mouthpieces."

Kaiser, who is the United States government representative to the governing body of the International Labor Office, meeting in Geneva May 26, and who will head our delegation to the International Labor Conference scheduled to begin in Geneva on June 7, also praised the I.L.O. for its method of bringing government, employer and worker representatives together to develop higher labor standards for the 80 member nations. "I am constantly impressed when I see government officials, employers and workers sitting down together peacefully to work out plans for a better life for men and women throughout the world," he said.

Written for NEA Service
"Every day," said Generous George, "is Bo Kind to Your Opponents Day. You don't get anywhere being greedy and trying for all the tricks there are in the deck."

"A very pretty sentiment," growled one of his opponents. "Only I wish your kindness didn't cost me so much!"

He had good reason to complain. George had just made game and rubber where a greedier player would have been set.

The opening lead was the jack of spades, dummy covered with the queen, and East put up the king. It was at this point that George, playing the South hand, made one of the plays for which he was so well known. Instead of taking the trick with his ace of spades, he played a low spade, allowing East to hold the trick.

Now the defenders were unable to defeat the contract. If East continued spades, South could take his ace and trump the last spade in dummy. It would then be easy to draw trumps, giving up one spade, one trump, and one club.

East actually decided to lay down the ace of hearts, drawing dummy's only trump. He then led another spade, hoping that his partner had the ace. As it turned out, however, South was able to win that trick with the ace of spades, draw the rest of the trumps, and then run the diamonds. He therefore made his contract with an overtrick.

It is interesting to note that George would have been set if he had not been so generous at the first trick. For example, if South wins the first trick with the ace of spades, and then leads trumps, the opponents can take the ace of hearts, two spade tricks, and the ace of clubs.

If declarer tries to get a spade ruff by returning a spade at the second trick, the defenders can take that spade, draw one trump with the ace of hearts, and then take another spade and the ace of clubs. South cannot gain by trying to get adiscard on the diamonds before drawing trumps. West would be able to ruff with an otherwise worthless trump.

Sander Is Plowman

Condia, N. H., May 16 (AP)—Dr. Hermann N. Sander has completed his task as a plowman. The young country doctor, who was acquitted of murder in the death of a cancer patient, has been plowing neighbors' fields for the past month at $4 an hour. He supplied his own motorized plow. With the season for plowing ended, the doctor did not say what kind of employment he would turn to now to support his family. He has been stripped of his right to practice medicine in New Hampshire until June 19, when he may apply for reinstatement of his license. Approximately $20,000 raised by friends has been used largely to defray legal expenses of his trial.

Hay at Lowest Point

Albany, N. Y., May 16 (AP)—The 448,000 tons of hay stored in New York state this spring represent the lowest stocks in eight years. The total compares with 820,000 tons on hand May 1, 1949, and with the 10-year average of 764,000 tons.

CAPITAL SOUVENIR—This medal, commemorating the 150th anniversary of the national capital, will be placed on sale in Washington soon as the official souvenir of the capital's sesquicentennial. Union Workers Asked
To Help With Wage Law

Union workers in the hosiery industry were asked to assist the Wage and Hour Division in upholding overtime requirements of the law by Wage and Hour Administrator William R. McComb at the annual convention of the American Federation of Hosiery Workers at the Hotel Park Sheraton, New York city, today.

McComb pointed out that his investigators have found an increasing number of hosiery plants violating overtime provisions of the law during the past year. "Piece-workers are staying late or coming in to work on Saturdays without wage records being kept for their work and without overtime being paid," he said.

The wage and hour administrator said that whereas the straight time the worker is being paid for these long hours may look attractive now, it is against the workers' long-run interests and against the interests of fair-minded employers who comply with the act and who do not want their business undermined by unscrupulous or fly-by-night concerns. The speaker said he intends to see to it that the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act are enforced fairly and impartially with consideration for the needs of both employers and employees.

The new 75-cent minimum and other amendments to the Wage and Hour Law which went into effect last January 15 should be a source of satisfaction to all who are directly interested in the well-being of American working men and women, McComb said.

Ancient kings of Denmark frequently established residences at Viborg, located on the mainland peninsula of Jutland.

Angry (would be) Diner—You pay your waiters here, don't you?
Restaurant Proprietor—Of course, we do!
Angry Diner—Well, then, pay me my half-day's wages. I'm tired of waiting and am going to quit.

The old gentleman was getting quite deaf. One day while driving his car he crossed a bridge over a railroad track. A huge locomotive sped beneath and let out a shrill whistle. "Hm!" muttered the old man happily. "First robin I've heard this spring."

Average is the poorest of the best and the best of the poorest.

Edith—Two bad about Tom and the girl he's engaged to. Neither of them is good enough for the other.

Ruth—Where did you get that idea?

Edith—I've been talking the match over with both families.

She had begged her husband for months to have his picture taken. At last he decided to go through the agony, but when the proofs arrived, she exclaimed in horror. Wife—Oh, there's only one button on your coat.

Hubby—Thank heaven! You've noticed it at last.

The young bride was asked what she thought of married life. "Oh, there's not much difference," she replied. "I used to wait up half the night for George to go, and now I wait up half the night for him to come home."

If I go home late I just say to my wife, "Silence!"

Friend—And what happens?

Man—Er—I am silent.

All movies are a gamble, says a producer. Those that win always do so on a full house.

Girls have now gone from ice skating to roller skating, or dancing, in order to "sit this one out."

The girl who is crazy to get married frequently realizes it soon after, sadly remarks the Galt, Ont., Canada Reporter.

Barbara Bennett Accuses Downey Of Deceit Breach

Bridgeport, Conn., May 16 (AP)—Barbara Bennett has accused Morton Downey of failing to live up to a divorce agreement giving her the right to visit their five children.

The actress and the singer were divorced in June, 1941, with Downey receiving the custody of the children—Michael, now 19; an adopted son, Sean, 17; Lorette Ann, 15; Anthony, 14, and Kevin, 11.

Miss Bennett, sister of actress Joan and Constance Bennett, has asked the Superior Court here for a decree compelling Downey to honor the agreement. Judge Kenneth Wynne issued an order requiring Downey to appear in court May 26 to show why such a decree should not be issued.

Following her divorce from Downey, Miss Bennett married the late Addison (Jack) Randall, a cowboy actor, who was killed in an automobile accident a short time later. It was understood that Downey would contend that her re-marriage nullified the agreement.

The show cause order was issued by Judge Wynne on May 12, but the nature of Miss Bennett's complaint was not made public until yesterday when papers were served here on Downey's attorney, Adrian W. Maher.

Miss Bennett was reported to be in San Francisco, working for the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Columbia Invites 750 Colleges to Anniversary

New York, May 16 (AP)—Columbia University yesterday invited the world's leading educators to help its anniversary year of 1954, a milestone of educational freedom.

The invitation went to 750 colleges, universities, libraries and museums throughout the world, including those in Russia and her satellites.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, president of Columbia, asked them to unite in Columbia's 200th anniversary year to champion "the right of mankind to knowledge and to the free use thereof."

"They can do it with Americans on Columbia's campus," he added, "or at home on their own campuses."

Cancer Is Second Leading Killer

"Cancer is the second leading cause of death," said Mrs. Harry P. Van Wageningen, executive secretary of the Ulster County Branch of the American Cancer Society. "Cancer will affect one out of five persons during their life time, if present rates continue," she added.

Four hundred and forty-nine Ulster county residents died of cancer and 302 new cases were reported in 1949.

In 1950, 148 new patients have already been registered at the Tumor Clinic. Eight hundred and fifty-seven cancer patients have been given X-ray treatment during the first three months of the year. The Ulster county tumor facilities have been provided by the people of Ulster county and the generous grant of $10,000 given by the American Cancer Society.

The program of cancer control is promoted through the Bureau of Cancer Control, New York State Department of Health, Medical Society of the State of New York and the New York State Division of the American Cancer Society.

"Your support and contributions to the American Cancer Society to continue such services to the public," said Mrs. Van Wageningen. "Each person is urged to give generously so that we can fight cancer."

Fatal Car Crash

Manhasset, N. Y., May 16 (AP)—A six-year-old girl died last night at the United Hospital in Port Chester, the second fatality in a Manhattan truck-truck collision. She was Cynthia (Cindy) Falkner, daughter of Mrs. Morey Falkner, of Larchmont, N. Y., whose light sedan, loaded with young mothers and children, was involved in the accident. As she made a left turn from the Boston Post road into Manhattan street, a 10-ton trailer-truck struck the sedan, rolled over it, and tangled it into a ball of twisted metal and humanity. One of the mothers, Mrs. George K. McCracken, of Larchmont, was killed.

Jews Go to Israel (AP)—Four thousand Jews are expected to come to Israel before the end of this year from Afghanistan. Camp followers already here are preparing to arrange for their settlement and assignment to jobs.

Strands of Hair Are Strangling Case Clues

Millville, N. J., May 16 (AP)—A twelve-inch strand of brown hair and plaster casts of footprints are the clues with which police are trying to solve the strangling of Lorraine Hess, a 17-year-old high school girl who is being buried today.

Her body, strangled with the belt from her coat and two men's socks taken from a clothesline, was found in a sandy sedgey Saturday morning. She had not been raped.

Irving Atkinson, the Cumberland county physician, said the strands of hair found clutched in the girl's hand must be a woman's, because of its length.

He discounted the possibility of the hair being the victim's own, in spite of a resemblance, because it seemed unlikely that she would pull her own hair out while being strangled.

Meanwhile Samuel Lilly of Middlesex, a 29-year-old millworker, was held over night again for more questioning.

Police began questioning him Sunday. However they placed no charge against him.

To Give Illustrated Lecture on Flowers

Raymond Fox, specialist in horticulture and ornamental horticulture, will give an illustrated lecture on "How to Grow and Show Flowers for Exhibition" at 1:30 p. m. Friday, May 19, at the First Baptist Church Hall on Albany avenue.

The meeting is sponsored by the Ulster County Home Bureau and everyone interested is invited to attend. Those who are interested in flower arrangements will find Mr. Fox an inspiration, the Home Bureau said. He will help the audience to see ahead in planning for the production of horticultural specimens and then how to show them.

Must Abolish Societies

Salamanca, N. Y., May 16 (AP)—The City Commission of Education has ordered high school fraternities and sororities abolished. It contends they are undemocratic and "neither good for the school nor the pupils." Two existing fraternities and two sororities will not be permitted to continue after the present school term.

The Portuguese first settled the African Gold Coast.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

New York, May 16 (AP)—The climb in inventories this spring leads some observers to wonder whether we face another inventory boom and inventory recession like those of late 1948 and early 1949. And, if so, at what point will rising inventories give the tip-off on the next slump.

Others hasten to point out that inventories are still well in line with the advancing national income and the continuing boom in sales of durable goods. And they count heavily on the common sense which most businessmen have shown since the war.

Things to watch about inventories: Where they grow and where they back up; the trend of prices up and down; and the changes in consumer income and purchasing power.

Business inventories went up $900 million in March to a total of $55 billion. But adjusting to the normal seasonal variations, the Department of Commerce reports the gain as one-half billion dollars during March, and says it was concentrated in the retail and wholesale stockrooms. Manufacturers' inventories held where they were.

In other words, there was no backing up at the factory—such as led to the sharp drop in production just a year ago, and to a drop in inventories of $3 billion by midsummer. On the contrary, in March the nation's manufacturers, as a whole, were having their best postwar month for orders, a record $20.6 billion, 14 per cent better than the year before. The question is how much of this is going into consumers' hands, and how much into inventories.

Time Is Pointed Out Those who are betting on a continued high business activity in the second half of the year point out that the inventory gain came at a time when the construction industry was pushing toward a new record, when auto factories were working up toward a new high annual output of cars, when steel production was setting new records.

Opinion is divided on how much of the present high level of business activity can be traced to building up inventories. Some hold that last year's scare led to unnecessary cuts in inventories ($3 billion in a few months) which haven't yet been made up. Others stress that no one should ever count on an inventory boom lasting very long.

One reason for the shortness of the 1949 slump is that during both the inventory boom which preceded it and the rush to whittle down inventories which characterized it, consumer spending continued remarkably steady in total dollars spent, although shifting among various types of goods bought.

This was especially noticeable when compared with the ups and downs in spending which accompanied other booms and busts. This time, consumer spending was propped by high income and savings widely spread through the nation; unemployment insurance payments; crop subsidies; and rising expenditures by the government, chiefly for foreign aid and defense, which kept a steady stream of (tax) money flowing into industry.

May Happen Again

Many believe that the same thing will happen again, should inventories get out of line. And many doubt that inventories will be built up dangerously. They note that after this year business men began talking about the coming boom but even before the postwar boom got up full steam, as a whole, businessmen may be as quick this time, as a year ago, to apply the brake if stocks get out of line with sales prospects.

Meanwhile, there's plenty of money around to sustain sales. The Commerce Department reports that consumers' income this spring rose to an annual rate of $212 billion. It was $217 billion in December, 1948, but for that year as a whole it was $211.9 billion, and for 1949 as a whole it was $209.8 billion.

Hobby Show Will Offer Variety of Articles in June

From marionettes to ming trees and crocheted rugs to ceramics is a random sample of the hobbies that will be brought to local people on June 13, 14, 15 when the first annual Hudson Valley Hobby Show holds forth at the Municipal Auditorium in Kingston under the sponsorship of the Kingston Y.W.C.A.

In commenting on the hobbies already allotted space in the auditorium, Mrs. Harold Davis, exhibit chairman, pointed out that the variety of space-time endeavors indicates that visitors to the hobby show will probably view many interesting achievements in the imaginative and creative field of hobbies.

The Herrick family's marionettes will be a feature of the show as will Frank Paine's model boat-making and construction hobby. A combination of hobbies in artificial flowers, ming trees, and metal trays will be offered by Mrs. Arnold VanAken, and Mrs. Judson Smith will exhibit the intricate work of textile painting. Crocheted rugs will have their place with Mrs. John Durham as the hobbyist, and coins, including pieces from all over the world, will be the presentation of Earl Sherman.

Art exhibits will be on the program under the direction of the Ulster County Artist Association where both members and non-members will be featured, and the Kingston Boys' Club will have a handcraft exhibit. The making of miniature wax figures by Lewis Brown, author of an artist's drawing book on the anatomy of horses, will be one of the presentations of the booth sponsored by the Kingston Model Railroad Club, builders of the quarter-inch scale model railroad system exhibited each fall season. And the complete scale model circus that has been a part of the railroad club exhibit will also be shown at the hobby show—a display that contains hundreds of separate pieces that are found in the large prototype railroad circuses.

"These will be live exhibits," said Mrs. Davis. "Something will be going on in each booth so that visitors may see just how the hobby is accomplished, and the people participating will be glad to answer questions and explain their particular hobby."

Other hobbies that will probably make their appearance include model airplanes, stamps, dolls, leather work, looting, flower arrangements, wood-carving, metal craft, ceramics, aquariums, rug and cane seats, quilts, rug hooking, and others. The committee is desirous of obtaining persons who are chess or checker players and would like to play games during the show—perhaps taking on any visitors who believe they understand and other game sufficiently to play the hobbyist.

"Now is the time to enter your hobby," stated the chairman of the exhibits. "Just telephone 1911 or 1948-M and give your name, address, telephone number, hobby to be exhibited and approximate space necessary for the exhibit. There will be absolutely no charge for non-commercial exhibits, but we prefer that exhibitors plan to present action in their booth and not just a static display of their particular hobby."

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

BY HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—The thing that Jack Earle had most about being a circus giant was having people ask "how's the weather up there?"

I figure I was asked that question at least 10,000 times" recalled Earle.

At 11 and still standing eight-foot-six-and-a-half inches, he is happy in his new career as the world's tallest traveling salesman.

You must remember Jack Earle, the most famous and certainly the most talented of the circus giants of Ringling Brothers and Sarnoff.

I used to tell my friends' lucky charms to a quarter. In gained I sold thousands upon thousands of them. I was once in a while I still bump into some who pull out one of those rings I traded with a girl I always offer to give them their quarter back if it hasn't brought them good luck."

Jack got his circus job in an odd way. As a child he had wanted to be a motion picture actor. And that was the way of 12 to 17 he did appear as a vaudeville clown in some 48 film comedies with Baby Peggy and other stars of the day.

One day I fell off a truck and went blind for more than four months," he said. The injury hastened the growth of a pituitary tumor.

Was Taller Than Frank
Jack's stature shot up week after week as he was recuperating at his home in El Paso. One afternoon he went with some other boys to see the Ringling Brothers' side show. He was amazed to find he was taller than "the world's tallest man." So was the circus. It promptly offered the youth a contract.

I didn't want to be a sideshow freak," Jack said. "But I did want to earn a living. I traveled with the circus for 14 years. And by then all its glamor and color had ended for me."

After a trip to Australia, Earle returned and looked up an old friend who was working with the wine division of Schenley Industries. The company hired Jack to make a three-month good will tour—and has been with them ever since.

He has graduated in that time from being an oddity to becoming one of the ablest merchandising specialists in the wine business.

Jack spends more than 11 months of the year on the road. Learning to overcome the physical hardships of traveling—such as having to buy his socks a gross at a time and sleeping doubled up in train berths—wasn't the chief difficulty, he said. "It was psychological—getting other people to realize that, despite my size, I was just another man trying to earn a normal living in a normal manner."

Height An Advantage
"But that worked out, too, in time. When I call on dealers now, they know I'm there on business. And my height has even been an advantage. No receptionist ever tells me her boss isn't in."

It is lonely to be a giant in a world of smaller men, but Jack is a pretty well-adjusted giant. He likes people.

"When I do hit a low low," he said, "I go to my room, lock my door, and read a book or paint a picture. I have a hell of a lot of fun out of painting. I do nothing but water colors now, and I give them to my friends. A traveling man has no place to keep things."

Jack only met one man taller than himself in his life—Robert Wadlow, the late Alton, Ill. giant. "He stood 8 feet, 9 1/2 inches," Earle said. "I was so flabbergasted when I saw him the only thing I could think to say was, 'How's the weather up there?'"

"He didn't like it either."

Book Review

To further increase interest in the Kingston Library, the following review by Mrs. G. Cramer Dodge is published.

THE FEAST

By Margaret Kennedy

In this book by the author of "The Constant Nymph" the characters are presented with the same enchanting humor and flair for entertainment. Each deals with an unusual collection of people brought together under unusual circumstances, with Miss Kennedy's superb story telling ability to make them unforgettable.

The story starts on a day in late August, 1947, with the preparation of a funeral sermon by Father Bott of the Anglo-Catholic Church of St. Sody, North Cornwall. It is a most difficult task. The funeral is for several victims of a rock slide which buried them alive in a seaside hotel at the foot of an overhanging cliff.

The owner of Pendrack Manor Hotel had been warned of the danger by government geologists but the warning letter was somewhat flimsy and so he went on in the Manor which Mrs. Siddal has turned into a hotel for a very mixed collection of paying guests. Mrs. Siddal was not obliged to do this but her ambition is to see that her two younger sons, Duff and John, complete their education at Oxford. And go her useless, charming ex-lawyer husband is banished to the boot closet whence he occasionally emerges to voice his sarcastic comments upon things in general, and her oldest son, Gerry, a young doctor, must be sacrificed to make her venture a success.

Her choice of housekeeper, Miss Ellis, is unfortunate. Miss Ellis does nothing but snoop, spy and find fault with lovely young Nanibell, who comes in by the day, and a half-wit Fred who does odd jobs. Miss Siddal has to do the cooking and as usual the most demanding guests get all the service and the best food. Ration points are very important and so the scramble for sweets at nearby Porthmerryn shows up the avarice of many of the guests.

As the author throws a penetrating light upon the different characters you grow to despise the evil and to love the admirable ones, particularly some endearing and amazing children. You know that some of them are moving toward inevitable doom in the very near future. The suspense is terrific and continues up to the very end of the book.

There is a mother who is a complaining invalid and a glutton and who uses her weakness as a club over her husband and children. She gets a well-deserved shock when her little daughter tells her that she knows her disgusting method of keeping slim while eating enormously large meals—a backdoor secret overheard in servants' gossip. Another is a miser who neglects her three lovely little girls and minimizes a serious ailment of one of them, so that it grows steadily worse. She takes from them their sweets' points and packages from America, containing small luxuries, and sells them. An overbearing father crushes almost all individuality out of his patient daughter.

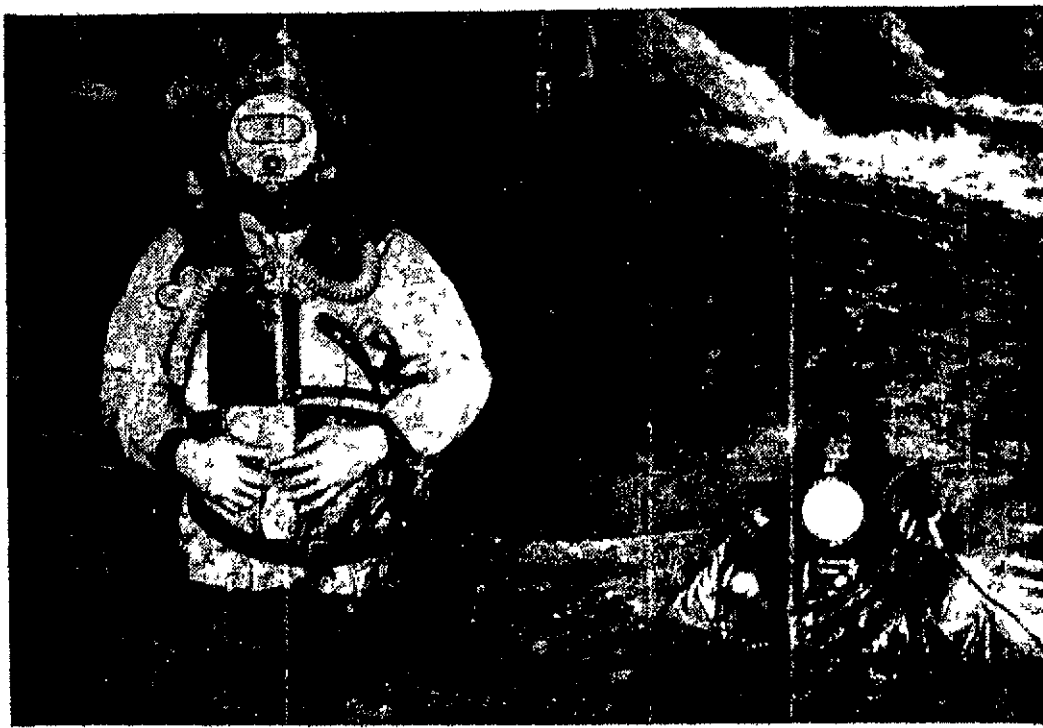

There is a horrible old woman who has a malicious influence over young, attractive men. She knows too much about handsome Bruce's past and so, for a time, he must follow her lead until she kidnaps adventurous little Hebe, takes her to a place which is not much better than a brothel and gets her drunk. Then Bruce in his wrath snatches Hebe away and, in a burst of repentance, leaves the hotel and Nanibell whom he loved.

The feast is the result of an overwhelming ambition of the three little Cove children to play hostess at a party of their own. Through Nanibell the interest and aid of nearly everyone at the hotel is enlisted. Printed invitations are sent to each one and early one evening, with much fuss and clamor those who accepted start out for the picnic spot high on a hillside above the Manor. Hebe's idea of fancy dress for all added a grotesque touch. Just at the conclusion of the feast when the party was at its hilarious climax the disaster occurred. Then you know who escaped and which were the ones for whom Father Bott was preparing the burial oration.

Beginning and ending in sorrow, there is a lot of joy between.

Flynn's Condition 'Good'
Chicago, May 16 (AP)—Edward J. Flynn, Democratic national committeeman from New York, who suffered a heart attack Sunday, was reported in "good condition" at St. Luke's Hospital today. The 58-year-old Democratic leader of the Bronx was placed in an oxygen tent yesterday. Doctors said he was not in any danger but will remain in the hospital a day or two to rest. President Truman, in Chicago yesterday for a speech climaxing the three-day Jefferson Jubilee program, visited Flynn yesterday afternoon. Flynn came to Chicago for the big Democratic rally.

Sugar Loaf, N. An Associated Press account of the affair said it took place at the country club State police records list the site as a tar-papered-roofed shed on the nearby farm. The country club was not involved in any way.

Bids Will Be Let For Notch Road

The Greene County Chapter of the New York Good Roads Association met at the Court House in Catskill, May 10th. The guest speaker for the evening was George Nickerson, district engineer of the New York State Department of Public Works.

The meeting was successful with a large group present to hear Mr. Nickerson describing the way in which the State Department of Public Works plan their new highway construction program. The good news for the Mountain Top people was that bids would be let out by July for the construction of the second section on the Notch Road. A number of questions were asked by the members in reference to Routes 61 and 23A on new top surfacing.

Among those present were Edward Stucky, assistant engineer on the State Department of Public Works, Harry Parker, state engineer of the State Maintenance Department of Public Works, and Frank Campbell, state highway engineer of Greene county.

The members also enjoyed a movie short entitled "The Highway Mania." John H. Huber, field representative of the New York Good Roads Association, gave a short talk on why the Greene County Chapter should in-

East German Trains Slow

Berlin (AP)—East-German Communists have reached the nullifying stage over the way the railway system stumbles along. A report says that bureaucracy and red tape are the major stumbling blocks. An example is a railway station in Halle which stands exactly on the two administrative districts. On one side of the office clerks and other employees dispatch trains and do the work for one district. Across the floor is another batch. To get a train to move the length of the station, across the line separating the districts, requires hours of paper work.

Dr. Broad Explains Importance of X-Raying Chests

Woodstock, May 16—At the general meeting of all committee chairmen and workers on the Chest X-ray survey held on Monday night at the Woodstock Art Gallery, Dr. Robert H. Broad, Ulster county commissioner of health, stressed the importance of the survey to the community. Dr. Broad said that the survey, which will be held in Woodstock on May 23, 24 and 25 at the Town Hall, is being sponsored by the Ulster County Department of Health, which supplies the equipment in cooperation with the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

In urging a 100 per cent turn out of all residents 15 years and over, he said that it is the aim to discover all undiagnosed and infectious cases of TB in order that the disease might be completely eradicated. Possibly only one per cent of the people may have TB, though the X-ray it is also possible to find unknown cancer in the chest area as well as signs of cancer in other parts of the body, heart disease and cases of virus pneumonia. The reason, he said for only X-raying individuals 15 years and older is that active TB, cancer and heart disease is unusual in the earlier age groups.

After the X-rays have been taken, he explained, the films will be developed in Albany and returned to Kingston to be studied by the Health Department. Notification will be sent by post card if the report is negative, while those in need of treatment or advice will be notified by letter. Miss Anne Cassidy, Ulster county public health nurse, reported that these letters will be followed by a home visit to explain individual implications of the reports.

Miss Katherine M. Murphy, R. N., executive secretary of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association, stated that 15 towns in the county will be given the X-ray service at this time. She also gave instructions to the workers who will participate in the canvassing of Woodstock which begins on Tuesday.

Leo Carey, general chairman for Woodstock, presided at the meeting and introduced the following committee chairmen: Ben Buley, publicity; Mrs. Joseph Marr, canvassing, assisted by Ivan Mallow, Shady; Montena DeWitt, Zena; Blaine Simmons, Beaverville; Mrs. Jessup, Willow; Mrs. Luis Barred, Woodstock; Miss Helen Hill, Mrs. Nelson Shultz, Wittenberg; Merwin Doremus is chairman of the committee in charge of transportation which will be provided for those who require it.

Canvassers will be fully prepared to answer all questions concerning the X-ray and will leave no stone unturned in convincing individual wishing to participate in the program. Again it may be stressed that this is important to everyone. The chest X-ray is free and attendance is voluntary.

GRADUATION DRESSES DO DOUBLE DUTY

Graduation Picture...

In fashionable focus for the sweet girl graduate are white dresses which will lead a party life this summer. Embroidered organdy flounces form the tiered skirt and ruffle the off-shoulder neckline of the two-piece dress (left) designed by Celia Phillips. Another two-piece costume (right) by the same designer poses a sheer organdy dress banded in pique over a sun-back pleat sheath. The trim, waist-length jacket covers the top of the evening dress (center) designed by Emma Domb.

BY KAY SHERWOOD, NEA Staff Writer

New York (NEA)—The white graduation dress that walks off with honors is the one with an important wardrobe life ahead after the diplomas are tucked away.

Whether the dress is done up in the starchiness of pique or the frothy sheerness of fine organdy, smart styling keeps an eye on the future needs. Two-piece dresses show off in fragile sheers. Layers of organdy, for example, may make a flouncy skirt for a sleeveless sheer top. Virtues of this design are that they can be mated as prettily with other sheer separates for party wear.

Equally versatile are sheer organdy over-dresses which team up with slim sheaths of heavier weight fabrics such as pique. Without its demure companion, the sheath steps out as a sleek sun dress. More tailored sun-back dresses have brief cover-up boleros or jackets of a matching fabric. For formal graduation festivities, floor-length evening dresses of white cotton have just skirts which will swing out on dance floors later. Jackets to hide bare shoulders are cleverly designed to fit as trimly as a dress top. Some of the smartest of these are short, buttoned from waistline to bosom and have deep, rounded necklines.

154 Ulster County Girls Model Clothing They Made Themselves at 4-H Dress Review

One hundred fifty-four 4-H Club girls modeled dresses, coats, playsuits, skirts, blouses and aprons at the annual 4-H "Dress Review," climax of the year's clothing work, held at the Fair Street Reformed Church Saturday afternoon and evening.

canning center cannot be opened.

It was stated that the center had been established as a part of the adult education program in the school system. With federal aid the program was carried out during the war and continued since. Now, if the canning center is to be continued as a part of the educational program an instructor will be required to attend a state instruction school course and become qualified. After a qualified instructor is available, then the board will have to set up a program of adult education which must be approved by the State Education Department, before federal aid will be available. It was stated that under this program it would be necessary to conduct classes for those who use the center. A minimum number of persons attending the classes is provided under the law. Failure to comply with the state requirement would mean loss of federal aid money.

It was stated that perhaps the canning center program might be taken over by some other group, perhaps the Farm Bureau or Home Bureau as a project. The canning center has considerable value to the city and members felt it should be continued if a plan could be worked out by the city or some other group in the event the board cannot comply with the adult education requirements.

After a lengthy discussion the matter was referred to the Building committee for study.

The board voted to sell 5,000 tin cans from the stocks which are now on hand. There was a large number of cans left over after last year's activities at the center.

The board adjourned after a report had been received on a proposal to lease a portion of the Longport Park grounds owned by the board. A restaurant sought to lease a small section for parking facilities. The corporation counsel reported this could not be done since the board had leased the property to the state for the veterans housing project and had no jurisdiction over the land at present.

"What bird can fly backward?"

Did you name the hummingbird? That's a right answer. The hummingbird flies in all directions. It hovers, darts into flowers and backs out. Some people say he drinks nectar and I don't know about that.

But I do know you'll enjoy a drink of something really tasty if you'll fly to your neighborhood store and get flavor-scented Chequoc Club Gincer Ale. Choice Jamaican ginger and other fine ingredients are mellowed for months to give it a ripe, luscious flavor that would make even a hummingbird snack this drink.

And while you're at the store get Chequoc Club Sparkling Water. It's carbonated ice-cold so it's b-b-b-bubbles a long, long time.

HERE ARE SOME THINGS THEY FOUND OUT:

THE HOOVER COMMISSION (so called because, at President Truman's suggestion, former President Hoover was made its head) consisted of twelve distinguished men, six Democrats and six Republicans, appointed to study the Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government.

Lewis Denies He

tered or authorized at any time by this office to Mr. Sidener or any other of the hundreds of thousands of officers and members of the United Mine Workers of America.

"The term 'whistle stop' has no significance in the coal mining industry," Sidener led a group of Canton, Ill., coal miners who tried to return to their jobs during the strike. After the strike was over, Sidener was fined $50,000 by his United Mine Workers Union local and given the privilege of paying that sum at a rate of $25 a day. This is more than his daily pay.

The House group is to hear Sidener's story at tonight's session.

Lewis indicated in his letter that Sidener might be able to win reinstatement in the United Mine Workers.

Lewis said Sidener has failed to exercise "his right of appeal from the action of his coal union" in assessing the large fine. Sidener lost his job in the coal mines because he did not pay the fine and thus was deemed to be in arrears with the union.

Jacobs could only invite Lewis to testify before the committee because he lacks authority to issue subpoenas for witnesses. Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich.) of the full Labor Committee, who has objected strongly to the investigation undertaken by Jacobs, withdrew subpoena power from the subcommittee chairman.

Lesinski accused Jacobs of a "high handed" excess of authority in ordering the investigation.

Receives New Dog To Replace Old Pal

New York, May 16 (AP)—Eleven-year-old Eugene Githner had a dog back in Germany. It was a mongrel named Putzie, German for Pal.

But when red-haired Eugene's turn came to leave as a displaced person, he had to choose between the dog and the United States.

He left Putzie behind. The Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society here guessed what it must mean to a boy to give up his dog—especially a boy who spent most of his childhood in wartime German concentration camps.

So yesterday when Eugene arrived with 1,352 other D.P.'s aboard the Gen. R. L. Howze, the society had something waiting for him.

It was a three-months-old black, wire-haired terrier. The boy looked at the dog and memories of war and prison camps washed out of his eyes.

The pup looked back and then snuggled in as Eugene dropped to his knees.

They might as well have been alone on the ship for all the attention they paid to any one else—this boy and his dog.

Looking Ahead 300 Years

Washington (AP)—Three centuries without major repairs are hoped for in the renovation of the White House, Lorenzo S. Winslow, architect in charge of the project, for which Congress appropriated $5,400,000, says: "We are rebuilding the White House with materials which we expect will give a satisfactory performance of service without costly repairs for 300 or more years."

The building will be re-roofed with slate and copper flashings and much of the red metal on the roof will, of course, be re-used. Copper will also be used for gutters, leaders and downspouts. All hot and cold water lines will be red brass, while the heating, vent and waste lines will be copper tube. The hardware fixtures will be solid brass and bronze.

Study Clubs Asked To Visit Meetings

More than 50 persons representing 22 study groups attended a meeting of study club officers sponsored by the Ulster County Home Bureau at the First Baptist Church Monday night.

Mrs. Millard Davis of Kerhonkson, executive committee sponsor of the family life program, presided.

Among the recommendations presented by Mrs. Arnold Van Laer of High Falls, a member of the family life committee, was one that the study clubs visit each other's sessions, as was done in past years. She also recommended that wherever one person in an area showed interest in the family life study program, she should be given assistance in forming new clubs. It was also recommended that more material on family life appear in the monthly letters and that district meetings be arranged.

Reports were heard on three new courses in preparation. Mrs. Robert Kelder of Kripplush is preparing a course on teen-age boys and girls. Mrs. Clifford Schoonmaker of Accord is working on a course for happier family relationships, and Mrs. Allen Potter of Ellenville and Mrs. Davis of Kerhonkson are preparing a course entitled, "Our Second 40 Years."

Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Roy Gunther of Kerhonkson, Mrs. C. C. DuMont of Kingston and Mrs. Carl Dedy of Lortonville presented a skit to illustrate how such a device can be used to open discussion on a topic.

A discussion on the topic, "Can Romance Last Throughout Marriage?" was led by Mrs. George Seale of Palenville.

Mrs. William Palmer announced plans for the baby sitters institute to be sponsored by the home safety division of the Ulster County Safety Council at the Kingston High School auditorium on June 28. The institute will be for sitters, their parents and their employers.

Miss Everette Parsons, county home demonstration agent, and Miss Helen Rowe, assistant agent, discussed several projects.

Lifts Freight Embargo

Philadelphia, May 16 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad today lifted its embargo on freight and passenger trains west and north of Harrisburg, Pa., a few hours after the strike of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers came to an end. The road also ordered back on the job the 85,000 workers laid off as a result of the strike which began last Wednesday.

MOTHER'S SACRIFICE

Mrs. Emma Minilonic, 43, is aided by a policeman and a passerby after risking her life to save that of her baby, Julia, three, in Brooklyn, New York city. She jumped into the path of an onrushing automobile to shove carriage (left) out of the path of the vehicle. She suffered leg injuries. Car, out of control, was operated by a woman driver who held learner's permit.

SAVING FOR A NON-RAINY DAY

With flood waters rising steadily in Winnipeg, Canada, this homeowner hoisted his car up in the air with a pulley suspended from a tree. He also lashed bicycles to the chimney of the building in the foreground. The auto has been raised several times, to keep it above water level.

Leaves for Moscow

Washington, May 16 (AP)—Russian Ambassador Alexander S. Panayushkin leaving today for Moscow, is expected to give the Soviet Foreign Office a first hand report on how the cold war looks from Washington. The envoy is due to sail from New York on the Polish liner Batory on his second visit home since he came to the United States as ambassador late in 1947. Embassy aides described the trip as a routine leave of absence but added he doubtless would confer with foreign minister A. Y. Vishinsky and other foreign office officials on troubled U. S.-Soviet relations.

THOUGHTS WORTH THINKING

News is news but oftentimes for better understanding it needs interpretation.

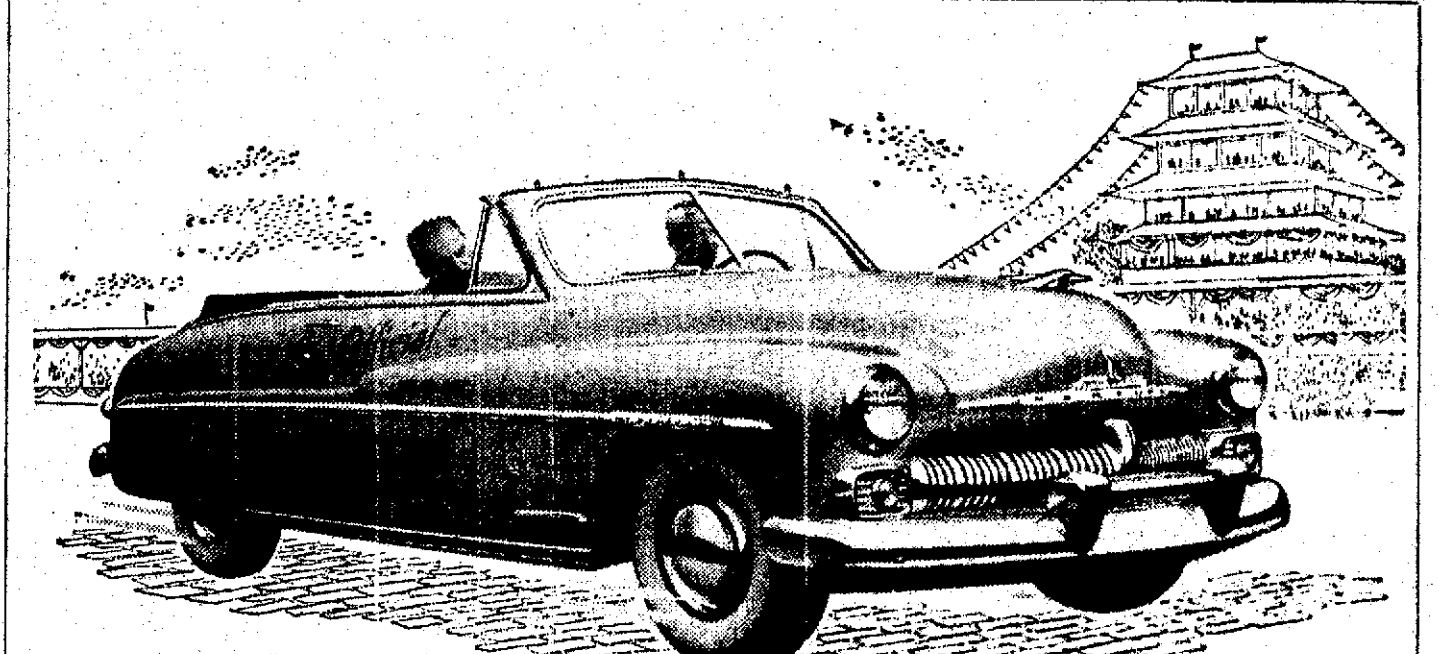

That is the function of our editorial page. On this page our editors seek to interpret without bias the known facts in many situations which are puzzling to the average reader.

Editorials at their best generate thoughts worth thinking. The shall low and the casual have no place in an editorial. Here the distillation of a series of events takes place and the result is usually a thought out interpretation that makes even the biased pause and ponder.

Subjects may be worldwide in application, national, regional, state or strictly local but the thoughts expressed are usually the studied conclusions of a lifetime of observation and worthwhile thinking.

Fred Waring Lends His Arrangements For Choir Concert

Two of the numbers on the program of the Kingston High School Choir Concert, Friday and Saturday evenings, May 19 and 20, will be accompanied by an instrumental ensemble, the music for which has been loaned from the library of Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians.

The numbers are "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor" by Bevin, and the well-known "God of Our Fathers," in the arrangements featured by the Waring organization on their radio programs.

The instrumental accompaniments, for brass ensemble and percussion, are in manuscript form and are not published for public use. These parts have been loaned from the library of the Pennsylvanians to Leonard Stine, director of the K.H.S. Choir, through the courtesy of Ernest Farmer, one of the arrangers for the Waring group.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long-length flowered organza with a high neckline, fitted bodice and matching milks. Her shoulder-length veil was caught to a scalloped net headpiece of seed pearls. She carried a nosegay of white sweet peas.

Polish Newsman
Will Be Speaker
For Dinner Club
Zygmunt Nagorski, Polish newspaperman, soldier and former head of the Lecture Division of the Ministry of Information of the Polish government-in-exile in London during the war, will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Kingston Dinner Club tomorrow at 8:30 p. m. at the Governor Clinton Hotel.
Nagorski, who saw his country divided and occupied by the two dictator powers of Europe, has been devoting his talents and destiny to warning the peoples of America and Britain of the secret aims of the Kremlin government.

After the Polish government-in-exile was no longer recognized by the Allies, Nagorski's job collapsed. Single handed and with no funds, he unofficially established the Polish Press Agency in Edinburgh. Hundreds of articles, letters to editors, short stories and announcements, signed by him, were published in the British press.
During the closing days of the war, he worked as a relief organizer for Displaced Persons in Germany, and was able to gather reports about conditions behind the Iron Curtain.
He moved to the United States in 1948.

Ava Says She Isn't In Love With Frankie

Tossa Del Mar, Spain, May 16 (AP)—Screen star Ava Gardner says she's not in love with anybody and not planning to marry anyone.—Frank Sinatra included.

"My supposed romantic relations with Frank Sinatra are purely imaginary," said the twice-divorced Hollywood beauty who for the past month has been making a film here.

American columnists have frequently linked her name with that of the radio and screen singer. He arrived last Thursday to visit Ava at her villa here. Sinatra is separated from his wife.

Miss Gardner added that she also was not in love with her new leading man, Spanish bullfighter Mario Cabré, who said Sunday that he planned to marry Miss

Gardner and was "really and" over Sinatra's visit.

Work on Ava's film halted after Sinatra arrived. The singer said yesterday he had come to Spain "only to rest" from a throat infection, not to see Ava, and that he planned to leave for Paris and London Thursday.

NOTES FROM

Nancy Warren

Dear Jane,

I'm so happy that you and John finally bought that little house. Do cheer up about its decorative possibilities. Even if the living room is cut-up with too many doors and the dining room overly blessed with oak woodwork, you can work some magic with some well-chosen wallpaper, and a little paint!

I remember your burgundy carpeting and you say you plan new draperies and slip-covers, so let's work from there. For the living room, I'd suggest that soft grey-beige "Chenille Stripe" wallpaper, and paint the woodwork to match. The dining room and windows will seem less conspicuous. Choose the green floral you can find, in shades of soft rose and green for the draperies and slipcovers.

That dreary dining-room can be really stunning! Paint all the woodwork (including the "hideous built-in china cabinet") the same soft grey as the living room. Then, throw caution to the winds and use that gorgeous wallpaper with the deep, late-color green and GRAY BIG dusty-pink roses and green leaves. Pick up plain, soft green for the draperies—and the old round table and not-too-elegant chairs will take on real dash with a coat of off-white paint and deep rose cotton chair backs and seat covers.

Jane, the papers I mention are No. 45A and No. 57B. You'll find many more interesting combinations completely worked out for you in the NANCY WARREN WALLPAPER BOOKS, which they'll be happy to have you look through, and plan with at THE PAINT RUCKET, 72 NORTH FRONT STREET, KINGSTON, N. Y.

Love to you both,

Nancy

Beacon High Blasts Maroon, 16-12 Despite Four Homers by Kingston

B. Scheffel Hits Two; Riehl, Lyons Others

Can a baseball team hit four home runs, six other safeties, pull a triple play, coax the ball away from the opposing pitcher and still lose the game?

It did happen to Kingston High yesterday in Beacon where the home tossers routed them 16 to 12 in a DUSO League skirmish.

The Dutchess just rolled up nine runs in the first inning off starter Ted Schwamb and for Pecora and what happened after that didn't materially affect the final result.

But about those home runs. Bud Scheffel hit two, Jimmy Riehl and Bob Lyons each bagged one. The Barkum scored eight runs in the last two frames but at that time Beacon was sailing along under a 16-1 margin.

place starter Peattie in the seventh.

Schwamb left the game trailing 4-0 after giving up five walks.

Bob Lyons emerged from his batting slump with a homer and two singles for the Maroon. Ronnie Scheffel poked a pair of singles and brother Bud, of course had those two four-busters.

Rodillard, Dexter and Baylsh punched three hits apiece for the winners.

Kingston travels to Middletown today and will meet Newburgh Academy in the Hill City Friday.

Maggiacomo Wins Rhinebeck Race

Jojo Maggiacomo, Poughkeepsie favorite, romped home first in the 25-lap feature before 5,000 stock car racing addicts Saturday at the Rhinebeck Speedway.

The popular Dutchess county star grabbed the lead on the seventh lap and stayed in front all the way. He knocked off the distance in 6 minutes, 50 seconds to top a field of 16 drivers.

Jim Reed took second place. Ray "O" Brown was third and Larry Shurter of Shokan won fourth money.

There were five "flips" and numerous other spins and blow-outs. Action started early when four cars piled up in the second corner as the first qualifying heat began.

On the re-start, Brooklyn Al Garz slipped before a lap was completed. Finally the boys got going and Rhinebeck's Bob Tator zoomed home in front, with Larry Shurter second and Herb Gold, third.

Alice Carlston, the lady driver, did very well for her first attempt against a male field, but blown head gaskets in two starts kept her from finishing. She will return next Saturday.

Wrestlers Draw 14,000 to Garden

New York, May 16 (AP)—Wrestling's grunt- and -grumace boys are edging back into the big-time with a new set of muscle-bound heroes and some fresh twists to old capers.

A seven-act show at Madison Square Garden last night drew 14,246 patrons, who shelled out $42,311. The previous Garden main presentation took in $50,000-plus.

This stacks up better than even with the average weekly boxing shows at the big uptown arena, while still falling short of the better ring attraction.

The last Garden fight last Friday night, for instance, drew 9,673 who paid $37,189 to watch Paddy Young beat Charlie Kasari.

Six weeks ago Rocky Graziano and Tony Janiro battled to a draw before an 88,000 fair.

When the wrestlers move into the Garden—a couple of times a year and they want to make it six—they put all their stars into one big package.

Last night the customers got the works—from Antonino Rocca, the agile, barrel-chested Argentine, to Primo Corona, the Italian hulk of a man who once held the world's heavyweight boxing championship.

Ladies, who comprise about half the audience, gnawed their nails and emitted horrified little squeals while the behemoths labored and belabored in the ring.

Ashokan Tossers Open With Win

Ashokan scored eight runs in the second inning against Modena Sunday and they were enough to insure an 8-4 baseball victory.

Hansen, Modena flinger who was given a tyout by the Kingston Colonials this spring, permitted only one hit but his own wildness and loose play by the Indians resulted in Ashokan's harvest in the second frame.

The losers collected nine safeties off Bud Personous. Bud Jackson's double was the lone Ashokan safety.

Wagner led Modena with three singles, while Apuzzo connected for a pair.

Yankees Sell Lindell to Cardinals; Giants Recall Monte Irvin from I.L.

By JOE BEICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Most of the major league clubs were busily engaged today clearing the decks in order to come within the 25-player limit.

The deadline goes into effect tomorrow at midnight, exactly a month after the start of the season.

A feverish two days of buying and selling resulted in the release of 13 players and the sale of two others to rival clubs in the majors.

With some 30 hours to go, there are 19 surplus athletes.

Brooklyn's Dodgers, with 30 on their roster, must dispose of five.

Detroit is next with three over the limit. Cleveland, Pittsburgh and the Philadelphia Phillies were faced with two amputations while Washington, the two St. Louis Clubs, Cincinnati, and the Chicago Cubs were one over.

Clubs already within the limit include the two Boston and New York clubs, the Chicago White Sox and Philadelphia Athletics.

The Yankees have 25, exclusive of Dick Wakefield. They were given special permission to carry the extra man indefinitely. The Giants were expected to bring up outfielder Monte Irvin from their Jersey City farm club and release veteran flycatcher Mike McCormick.

Yankees Ship Live
The Yankees shipped off five players yesterday. They sold outfielder Johnny Lindell to the Cardinals, pitcher Clarence Marshall to the Browns and optioned veteran first baseman Johnny Mize, rookie infielder Al (Billy) Martin and pitcher Duane Pillette to their Kansas City farm club of the American Association.

The Giants optioned pitcher Frank Fanovich to Minneapolis and outfielder Pete Milne to Jersey City. Fanovich, a bonus player, was obtained via waivers from the Reds.

The White Sox assigned shortstop Jim Baumer to Colorado Springs of the Western Association and released pitcher Bill Connolly to Toledo. Baumer is a bonus player signed by the Sox last year.

The Cubs placed Hal Jeffcoat on the voluntary retired list and recalled Bob Barkowski from Springfield of the International League to take his place in the outfield. Jeffcoat broke his collar bone in a game Sunday.

The Red Sox, after sending pitchers Bob Gillespie to Sacramento and Gordon Mueller to Louisville, recalled Jim Suchet, another pitcher. Suchet had a 2-2 record with Louisville. The Braves optioned Walter Linden to Milwaukee to get down to the prescribed player limit. The Cards released first baseman Glen Nelson and pitchers Cot Deal and Tom Poholsky over the weekend.

Only one regular game was scheduled. That between the

Bristol Driver Wins Middletown Feature

Hully Bunn of Bristol, Conn., won the 25-lap feature in a thrilling stretch duel with Russ Dodd of Middletown Sunday at the Victory Speedway in Middletown.

The close duel between Bunn and Dodd capped a program of excitement and speed that had the large crowd of 2,500 persons on its feet all afternoon.

Most thrilling of the many crashes occurred in the consolation race in which Ray Hyatt of Port Jervis turned over on the north turn after smashing into Fred Thompson of Newburgh. Neither driver was injured, although both were shaken considerably.

Mgr. Gall Is Improved; Colonials Rained Out

Series Resumes Tonight With Bridgeport Bees

Manager Emil Gall of the Colonials was reported slightly improved at the Kingston Hospital this morning and is believed to be off the danger list.

The Colonials, who were rained out in Bridgeport last night, will try it again tonight, with Glenn Underwood, Georgia southpaw, slated to pitch.

Dr. Hildeeb Maroon, his physician, said yesterday that it had been decided to keep Gall in the local hospital rather than risk the change of moving him to Albany.

Early postponement of the Bridgeport contest Monday afternoon enabled members of the Colonials to stay in Kingston and several visited their stricken manager at the hospital.

Braves 1 post Times
The collar-dwelling Yonking Braves did the Colonials a good turn in the only league contest last night, by postponing the long-scheduled Waterbury Times.

Kingston is only a game behind the leaders at the moment, but more significantly, the teams are tied in the last column with three each.

After tonight's Bridgeport fixture, the Colonials move on to Waterville for single games on Wednesday and Thursday.

The home schedule resumes against Bridgeport at municipal stadium on Friday and Saturday. The Poughkeepsie Chiefs come in Sunday for a single engagement.

Graziano 2-1 Choice In LaMotta Tuneup

Buffalo, N. Y., May 16 (AP)—Middleweight Rocky Graziano of New York City goes into the ring tonight as a heavy favorite against Henry Brann of Buffalo.

The 10 rounder in Memorial Auditorium generally is viewed as Graziano's tuneup for a title bout with champion Joe La Motta in New York's Yankee Stadium June 14.

Signing of Graziano as LA Motta's opponent hasn't been announced, however, and a Brann upset might knock Graziano out of the title shot.

Chick Layman, Graziano's trainer, said Graziano ranges from 24 to 125.

Nicosia, Cyprus (AP) — Copper gets its name from this ancient Mediterranean island. The English word "copper," the Latin word "cuprum" and the Greek word "kupros" all come from forms of an annual spring festival among the Indians of Panama.

Sentenced to Jail To Become Friendly

Pateron, N. J., May 16 (AP) — David Simon's household merchandise store and Al Daniels' household merchandise store stand side by side on Gratiem Avenue.

For 10 years Simon and Daniels argued about sidewalk displays and tried to swipe each other's customers.

Then the cold war became hot. Simon told police that Daniels rushed from his store with a pitchfork and shouted to Simon to come out and fight.

Daniels in turn complained that Simon answered the challenge flourishing a mop.

District Court Judge Milton Schanach last night sentenced Simon and Daniels to 24 hours in the same cell, to learn how to be friends.

Better Process

Electric furnaces are used in the making of highest quality steels since no outside impurities are introduced by a fuel and more precise control of melting conditions is possible.

INONU'S REGIME REPORTED DEFEATED

Turkish newspapers reported, May 15, that the regime of President Ismet Inonu (left) had been buried under a landslide of opposition votes in the election of May 14. Upward of 300 seats in the 487-seat Parliament went to the Democrat party of Celal Bayar (right), the reports said. The election is not expected to affect Turkey's foreign policy.

Upstate Jeweler President Again

Malcolm Campbell was re-elected president of the New York State Retail Jewelers Association at its 41st annual convention Monday afternoon. Boyd Evans of New York city was re-elected treasurer and E. Lathrop Sunderlin of Rochester was re-named secretary.

The 1951 convention will be held in Rochester. Two of the outgoing vice-presidents, F. Peters of Brooklyn and H. Gerber of White Plains were elected for a three-year term, and E. M. Belman of New York city and L. Schreiber of Elmira were elected for a three-year term. Among the other eight vice-presidents whose terms hold over is Samuel D. Scudder, Jr., of this city, who was elected last year at Buffalo for a three-year term.

Last evening the annual banquet was held in the Crystal Room of the Governor Clinton Hotel. The dinner was well attended and there was excellent entertainment supplied by WOV entertainers. During the convention, which was one of the finest groups of visitors ever to attend a convention in Kingston, according to the local convention committee, there were over 200 visitors who attended the sessions. The visiting delegates and their wives were entertained during the convention with trips to various historical points of interest and Monday afternoon at golf. Entertainment for the ladies was supplied by a committee of local women under the chairmanship of Mrs. Stuart S. Randall. The closing business session was held this morning.

White House Souvenirs Are Offered Free

Surplus material removed from the White House during its renovation is to be distributed throughout the nation.

Announcement to this effect was made today by Congressman Jay LeFevre of New Paltz, who said material comprises stone, brick, pine timbers, floor boards, old fashioned nails, wrought iron and small plaster ornaments all in various stages of preservation. Most of the material is suitable for processing by the recipients into small wooden articles, stone book-ends, plastic paperweights and the like.

LeFevre said the material will be helpful to museums, colleges, universities, libraries, churches and patriotic and civic organizations interested in things historical.

Anyone interested in obtaining some of the souvenirs may have them by paying packing and shipping costs, Congressman LeFevre said. If written requests are addressed to him at Room 1710, New House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

As many requests are anticipated, Congressman LeFevre suggests that his constituents from the 30th New York District write early.

Truman Will . . .

election which brought cabinet members and 3,000 Democratic party leaders from throughout the country to Chicago.

He didn't distinguish between Republicans and Democrats when he declared that Congress still has "many backward looking senators and representatives, who have tried to defeat every progressive measure they could, and to obstruct and delay those they could not defeat."

Nor did he specify Republicans only in his expression of hope for the removal of the worst "obstructionists."

However, associates aboard his Washington-bound train said he will support Democratic candidates for Senate and House all over the country as soon as the primaries are over.

They said his 6,000-mile "non-political" trip to the Northwest last week was just a mild taste of the type of campaign he will wage before the November election.

The 13-car presidential special, with his bullet-proof private car pulled out of Chicago at 11:30 o'clock (E.S.T.) last night. The scheduled arrival time at Washington was 2:30 p. m. (E.S.T.) today.

Mr. Truman, Vice President Barkley, cabinet and other party notables aboard paraded from the Blackstone Hotel along two torch-lit miles to the West Side Stadium, carrying the procession along Chicago's notorious "Skid Row."

Police Commissioner Pendergast estimated the street crowd at 400,000.

The President was interrupted frequently by applause, once, when, departing from his prepared text, he declared:

"I wish the opposition would come up with something and be a real opposition. A great political party can not survive and be against everything."

He went on to say the Whig and Federalist parties vanished because they lacked programs. He added he sincerely hoped "the Republican Party will profit" by their examples. He declared "we need a strong two-party system."

Without mentioning Victor Johnston, staff director of the Republican senatorial campaign committee by name, the President said of him:

"Some Republican politicians don't seem to think the President should visit with the people," he asserted.

"I was followed on this trip by a representative of theirs. He had a private plane, and he showed up to see the crowds where I stopped."

"I understand he thought the crowds were disappointing—that is, disappointing to him."

Mr. Truman, whose fondness for poetry was revealed on his recent visit to Key West, Fla., quoted Robert Louis Stevenson to his re-

FLAYS DEMOCRATS

The Rev. Harrison Ray Anderson (above) of the Fourth Presbyterian Church in Chicago said in a sermon from his church pulpit that President Truman should "quit playing with truth" and the people should cease "state idolatry." He said in effect that Chicago Democrats offended Christians with their ballyhoo for Sunday's program of the national party conference, using "Hollywood Beauties" and movie cowboys to build up political rally crowds. sponsive Chicago crowd in a flit at the Republicans for sending a spy out to check up on his cross-country jaunt.

"I have a little shadow, 'That goes in and out with me, 'And what can be the use of him

"Is more than I can see." The President asked the Johnston found "the people like to have their elected officials come and talk with them face to face."

Johnston said he received a ticket to the stadium from Secretary of the Interior Chapman, passed up the party, saying he will tell his committee he doesn't think Mr. Truman's tour helped Democratic congressional candidates.

"I know that Jake Arvey (Cook county Democratic leader) will be able to fill the hall," Johnston said before leaving.

He can put the pressure on the labor unions and the party members to get them out. Under those conditions, the crowd won't mean anything."

Injured Fatally

New York, May 16 (AP)—George Cohan, 31, of Brooklyn, was injured fatally today, police said, after his motorcycle collided with a trailer-truck driven by Boyd E. Hudson of 305 Haves street, New Bedford, Mass. No arrest was made.

Aldermen to Act On Street Deed

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk announced today that he has called a special meeting of the Common Council for tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. to act upon the acceptance of a deed for a proposed street known as Browning Terrace in the 12th Ward.

The Board of Public Works last week moved to accept the deed offered by Walter Donnaruma, who said all land is sold for building 26 homes on the tract, in the Miller's Lane area.

Plans allow for later extension of the street through to Dunnehan avenue, and Donnaruma said the street will be the most modern in the city. It will be named in honor of Robert F. Browning, local newspaper and veteran of World War I.

Hospital Maid Prays, Begg for Polio Boy

Providence, R. I., May 16 (AP)—Marie Gagne, a kitchen maid at Charles V. Chapin Hospital, spends part of her $17 weekly salary on child patients but a television set is too big an order for her to handle alone.

So Marie is resorting to prayers and a personal appeal to the kindness of the community for a television set for a 14-year-old polio victim, identified only as "Edgar." He has been confined to the hospital since last summer.

Police approved her lone campaign by kicking in $4 after telling her she didn't have a license to receive contributions.

Her initial fund of likely contribution spots will carry her to all the hospital's television sets, she said, because "these children are pretty happy every night to pray."

"I know when I pray for something I usually get it," she said, "I know I can't do it alone."
